Cost: $35 per ticket for 2 or more tickets, $40 per ticket for single ticket

Travel through time with Poudre Landmarks Foundation at the Time Travelers Ball: Equinox Adventures. The ball will welcome guests from across time on March 19, 7–11 p.m., at the Museum of Discovery, 408 Mason Ct. in Fort Collins. Tickets: $35 per ticket for two or more tickets, $40 per ticket for single ticket. (After March 14, price increases to $50 per ticket.)

Costumed guests will enjoy a reception hour in the museum lobby and café area with hors d'oeuvres, desserts, and alcoholic and non-alcoholic beverages. At 8 p.m. the fun will ramp up as guests enter the museum exhibit space to find the ten-piece Colorado Swing Cats band playing, dancers moving, and state-of-the-art exhibits on display. The OtterBox Digital Dome Theater inside the museum will welcome guests to three showings of space-inspired movies.

Costume attire is optional. Guests can have their picture taken in a “TARDIS” time machine, enter costume and trivia contests, see an egg-balancing display, and more. The equinox is rumored to be the best time-travel date, so join us on this most auspicious evening to travel through time!
